To March 2020 South African Tax Changes

The South African Revenue Service is bringing in new legislation from March 2020 which may see South Africans working abroad liable to tax on their earnings in excess of ZAR 1,000,000 per annum. Below is a simple guide to the new changes for South African residents and citizens as to the impact these new changes may have and what actions you may need to take. Please note this is guidance only and decisions should only be made when professional advice has been sought.
